You can even order your turkey from the on-site butcher, mince pies from the baker, or tuck in to delights courtesy of the ice cream maker.

Or why not indulge in a little pampering in the beauty and holistic salon?

And after all that retail therapy you can relax in the coffee shop or pub and restaurant, before perhaps returning later in the evening for a Christmas meal.

The Christmas lights switch on will be on Sunday, November 29.

It's a not-to-be-missed event with Christmas carols and a big band at 4.30pm, followed by the official switch on at 5pm. Pink glow sticks will be sold for £1 in aid of Breast Cancer Care, before being hung on the 'Light 4 Life' tree. There will also be a collection for Help For Heroes.

There are lots of reasons to pay a visit to Barton Marina soon. The Apple Tree was recently named in The Guardian newspaper's top 10 coffee shops, The Butcher, The Baker and the Icecream Maker were recently finalists in Local Food Heroes on UK TV Food and have won numerous awards for their produce, Gallery Three was awarded Best Art Retailer in the UK for 2009 by the Fine Art Trade Guild and Toys of Yesteryear is expanding soon.
