

Get Ready... ...to Sparkle

Obsessions

Obsessions, of Streetly, has reopened for business after a refurbishment.

The exclusive ladieswear shop, in Burnett Road, was relaunched on September 11 at a champagne and canape reception. Owner Heidi, who has been running the business for the past 18 years, explained that the revamp was a tribute to her late brother, Ashley Middleton.

"I tragically lost my brother in May. It is due to him, and some money that he left to me, that I've been able to refurbish the shop, so it is a tribute to him.

"The canapes on the evening were supplied by Mint Restaurant, which has also recently reopened, and we presented a cheque for £2,000 to St Giles Hospice."

Obsessions has a new and exciting range of clothing brands from Italy and France, as well as a large selection of shoes and boots. Fresh stock is continually arriving, so there is always something new to try, as well as something for all ages.

The latest smart casual trends are available at affordable prices, with more evening wear available towards Christmas.

Jewellery and accessories are particularly key this season, and customers can choose from up-to-the-moment or more classic styles. Heidi herself is on hand to give advice, alongside her fully trained and experienced staff.
