Got your tastebuds in gear yet?

On your marks for a few tasty festive treats

Time to put your festive tastebuds on standby – the season to be jolly is getting into full swing and restaurants across the region are ready to meet the clamour of festive-minded diners looking for that little bit extra.

Christmas is coming. Restaurants rapidly fill at this time of year as the festive spirit grabs hold and firmly squeezes every ounce of dining out pleasure that there is to be had.

Deciding where to dine is never easy, largely because of the rich variety of restaurants around and the quality of their cuisine – it is easy to bypass the bad places, which means it is even harder to get into the good places – reputation is everything to the discerning restaurant.

Specials galore are ready and waiting to help delight diners' tastebuds – and while the atmosphere and quality of service is good throughout the year, come the festive season it is more enhanced and hard to resist.

When deciding where to dine, a key element is the type of meal to go for – Chinese, Indian, Thai, Italian, Greek, traditional English, French, Spanish, Mexican...the list goes on.

Featured on these pages are just a few of the best of the best around.
